NEW QUESTION: 1

Scenario:

A Citrix Architect identifies a fault in the Active Directory design for CGE's existing XenApp environments.

Group Policy Objects (GPOs) from OUs across the Active Directory apply when end users log on to XenApp applications, creating undesirable end-user experiences. The architect determines that CGE needs full control over which GPOs apply in the new environment.

Why would configuring loopback processing with merge on a GPO linked to all OUs containing Delivery Controllers ensure full control over which Group Policies are applied?

- A. It ensures that only Group Policies located in or under the root Citrix OU are applied on the Delivery Controllers where end users log on.
- B. It ensures that GPOs located in the root Citrix OU are replaced with Citrix policies.
- C. It ensures that only Group Policies with the correct filtering in Active Directory are applied on the Delivery Controllers where end users log on.
- D. It ensures that only Citrix policies are applied on the Delivery Controllers where end users log on.

Answer: D

Explanation:

- + holddown timer: prevents a router from improperly reinstating a route from a regular routing update
- + split horizon: prevents information about a route from being sent in the direction from which the route was learned
- + defining a maximum: prevents invalid updates from looping the internetwork indefinitely
- + route poisoning: causes a routing protocol to advertise an infinite metric for a failed route
- + triggered update: decreases convergence time by immediately sending route information in response to a topology change

NEW QUESTION: 4

Which two statements about Cisco ASA failover troubleshooting are true? (Choose two.)

- A. With active/active failover, user data passing interfaces troubleshooting should be done within the context execution space.
- B. Syslog level 1 messages will be generated on the standby unit only if the logging standby command is used.
- C. With active/active failover, ASR groups must be enabled.
- D. The failed interface threshold is set to 1. Using the show monitor-interface command, if one of the monitored interfaces on both the primary and secondary Cisco ASA appliances is in the unknown state, a failover should occur.
- E. With active/active failover, failover link troubleshooting should be done in the system execution space.

Answer: A, E

Explanation:

System Configuration The system administrator adds and manages contexts by configuring each context configuration location, allocated interfaces, and other context operating parameters in the system configuration, which, like a singlemode configuration, is the startup configuration. The system configuration identifies basic settings for thesecurity appliance. The system configuration does not include any network interfaces or network settings foritself; rather, when the system needs to access network resources (such as downloading the contexts from theserver), it uses one of the contexts that is designated as the admin context. The system configuration doesinclude a specialized failover interface for failover traffic only.

Context Configurations

The security appliance includes a configuration for each context that identifies the security policy, interfaces, and almost all the options you can configure on a standalone device. You can store context configurations onthe internal Flash memory or the external Flash memory card, or you can download them from a TFTP, FTP, orHTTP(S) server.
