NEW QUESTION: 1

You want to display employee records in tabular format, but the form is not wide enough to display all the items in the Employees block. The employee IDs and names of displayed records should always be visible, but you want to scroll the additional information as users tab through the Items, the form should look like a spreadsheet with the first two columns frozen.

Which canvas types would be most appropriate in this scenario?

- A. multiple content canvases
- B. content canvas and multiple tab canvases
- C. content canvas and a tab canvas with multiple tab pages
- D. content canvas in a window with a horizontal scroll bar
- E. content canvas and a stacked canvas with a horizontal scroll bar

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation: After an entity is divided into groups, if all groups cannot be displayed simultaneously, it becomes necessary for two or more regions to be displayed in the exact same space, one at a time, using a Tab control. The user can jump to a specific region by selecting a tab or by progressing continuously through all fields of all Tab regions. A set of fields, minimally the primary key fields, should remain visible so the user can maintain context at all times. There, "frozen" fields must be placed inside the Tab control on the left side.

When best to use Tab regions:

- * When the user must see all fields of a record in a single window, but they do not need to see them all simultaneously.
- * When entire regions need to be hidden from a user due to security restrictions, the current state of data, or other product installations.

NEW QUESTION: 2

- A. Option A
- B. Option C
- C. Option B
- D. Option D

Answer: A

The Multipath I/O (MPIO) feature must be added on each host that will access the Fibre Channel or iSCSI storage array. You can add the MPIO feature through Server Manager. If the MPIO feature is already enabled before you add a host to VMM management, VMM will automatically enable MPIO for supported storage arrays by using the Microsoft provided Device Specific Module (DSM). If you already installed vendor-specific DSMs for supported storage arrays, and then add the host to VMM management, the vendor-specific MPIO settings will be used to communicate with those arrays.

NEW QUESTION: 3

Refer to the exhibit. Which option is the minimum number of vNICs required by the service profile to connect to all available Vlan?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 4

You have an availability set named AS1 that contains three virtual machines named VM1, VM2, and VM3. You attempt to reconfigure VM1 to use a larger size. The operation fails and you receive an allocation failure message. You need to ensure that the resize operation succeeds. Which three actions should you perform in sequence? To answer, move the appropriate actions from the list of actions to the answer area and arrange them in the correct order.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Action 1: Stop VM1, VM2 and VM3

If the VM you wish to resize is part of an availability set, then you must stop all VMs in the availability set before changing the size of any VM in the availability set. The reason all VMs in the availability set must be stopped before performing the resize operation to a size that requires different hardware is that all running VMs in the availability set must be using the same physical hardware cluster. Therefore, if a change of physical hardware cluster is required to change the VM size then all VMs must be first stopped and then restarted one-by-one to a different physical hardware clusters.

Action 2: Resize VM1

Action 3: Start VM1, VM2, and VM3
