NEW QUESTION: 1

You have an Exchange Server 2016 organization. The organization contains 2,000 mailboxes and 100 distribution groups.

You create a distribution group named Managers and you add 20 users to the group.

You need to ensure that the members of Managers can create new groups and modify the membership of those groups.

Which three actions should you perform? Each correct answer presents part of the solution.

- A. Assign an address book policy (ABP).
- B. Add the MyBaseOptions and MyDistributionGroupMembership management roles to the Managers role assignment policy.
- C. Add the MyBaseOptions and MyDistributionGroups management roles to the Managers role assignment policy.
- D. Create a new role group named Managers.
- E. Assign the role assignment policy.
- F. Assign a sharing policy.
- G. Create a role assignment policy named Managers.

Answer: C, E, G

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

A, E: Management roles can be further combined into larger groupings called management role groups and management role assignment policies, which enable management of feature areas and recipient configuration.

G: The MyDistributionGroups role type is associated with roles that enable individual users to create, modify, and view distribution groups and modify, view, remove, and add members to distribution groups they own.

The MyBaseOptions management role enables individual users to view and modify the basic configuration of their own mailbox and associated settings.

Incorrect Answers:

D: The MyDistributionGroupMembership role type is associated with roles that enable individual users to view and modify their membership in distribution groups in an organization, provided that those distribution groups allow manipulation of group membership.
