Scenario: A release pipeline is configured to build and deploy a new version of an application. The pipeline includes a build step, a test step, and a deployment step. The build step is configured to build the application and generate a package. The test step is configured to run unit tests against the application. The deployment step is configured to deploy the application to a production environment. The pipeline is configured to automatically trigger a new release when a new commit is pushed to the main branch. The pipeline is also configured to automatically cancel a release if a new commit is pushed to the main branch while the release is in progress. The pipeline is also configured to automatically cancel a release if a new commit is pushed to the main branch while the release is in progress.

- A. `msbuild /t:Build /p:Configuration=Release`
- B. `msbuild /t:Build /p:Configuration=Debug`
- C. `msbuild /t:Build /p:Configuration=Release /p:Test=Test`
- D. `msbuild /t:Build /p:Configuration=Release /p:Test=Test /p:Deploy=Deploy`

Answer: A

Explanation:

When a release is created from a release pipeline that defines approvals, the deployment stops at each point where approval is required until the specified approver grants approval or rejects the release (or re-assigns the approval to another user).

NEW QUESTION: 4

You have a server named Server1 that runs Windows Server 2012 R2. Server1 has the File Server Resource Manager role service installed.

Server1 has a folder named Folder1 that is used by the human resources department.

You need to ensure that an email notification is sent immediately to the human resources manager when a user copies an audio file or a video file to Folder1.

What should you configure on Server1?

- A. a file group
- B. a file screen
- C. a file screen exception
- D. a storage report task

Answer: B

Explanation:

Create file screens to control the types of files that users can save, and generate notifications when users attempt to save unauthorized files. With File Server Resource Manager (FSRM) you can create file screens that prevent users from saving unauthorized files on volumes or folders.

File Screen Enforcement:

You can create file screens to prevent users from saving unauthorized files on volumes or folders. There are two types of file screen enforcement: active and passive enforcement.

Active file screen enforcement does not allow the user to save an unauthorized file. Passive file screen enforcement allows the user to save the file, but notifies the user that the file is not an authorized file. You can configure notifications, such as events logged to the event log or e-mails sent to users and administrators, as part of active and passive file screen enforcement.
