NEW QUESTION: 2

An errant process is known to use in an entire processor and run at 100%. A SysOps Administrator wants to automate restarting the instance once the problem occurs for more than minutes.

How can this be accomplished?

- A. Create a Lambda function start the EC2 instance triggered by EC2 health
- B. Create an Amazon CloudWatch alarm on the Amazon EC2 instance with basic monitoring Enable an action to restart the instance
- C. Create an AWS Lambda function to restart the EC2 instance triggered on a scheduled basis every 2 minutes
- D. Create a CloudWatch alarm for the EC2 instance with detailed monitoring Enable an action to restart the instance

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

You can use CloudWatch Events to trigger an AWS Lambda function to start and stop your EC2 instances at scheduled intervals.

Note: This article provides an example for a simple solution.

For a more robust solution, see AWS Instance Scheduler.

Resolution

CloudWatch Events allows you to create an event that is triggered at a specified time or interval in response to events that take place in your account. For example, you can create an event using CloudWatch Events for a specific time of day, or you can create an alarm when CPU utilization for an instance reaches a specific threshold. You can also configure a Lambda function to start and stop instances when triggered by these events.

In this example, we use Lambda functions to start and stop EC2 instances, and then we use CloudWatch Events to start instances in the morning and stop the instances at night.

1. Open the AWS Lambda console, and choose Create function.
2. Choose Author from scratch.
3. Enter a Name for your function, such as "StopEC2Instances."
4. From the Runtime drop-down menu, choose Python2.7.
5. Expand the Role drop-down menu, and then choose Create a custom role. This opens a new tab or window in your browser.
6. In the IAM Role drop-down menu, choose Create a new IAM Role, and enter a Role Name, such as "lambda_start_stop_ec2."
7. Expand View Policy Document, choose Edit, and then choose Ok when prompted to read the documentation.
